

2.1 Installations. Use of the Yellow Design Studio Font Software is limited to the number of End Users identified when this License was purchased. The Font Software may be installed on not more than two (2) computers (workstation and laptop, iPad or other portable device used as a substitute for a workstation type computer for each licensed End User), provided that both computers are not used simultaneously. For the purposes of clarity, a Licensed End User may install the Font Software on their laptop, iPad or portable device and their workstation, provided both are not used at the same time. Serving of the Font Software to Unlicensed End Users over a network, LAN, WAN or the Internet is strictly prohibited. If you need or otherwise desire to install and use the Font Software in such a manner, contact Yellow Design Studio for a special license.

2.2 Design Uses. Use of the Font Software in the creation of design works, rasterized images for web sites and otherwise for your personal use is permitted. If you design or create works for third parties, such as clients, you are considered a "Designer" and you may use the Font Software to design or create such works for those third parties, provided that the use by those third parties is subject to the obligations and restrictions (but none of the privileges of the Font Software license) in this Agreement as if those third parties were you. You may use the Font Software to print multiple copies of products, including clothing, packaging, posters, coffee mugs or similar commercial products, provided you do not exceed the 250,000 instance limit as defined in 6.2 below or violate any of the other restrictions in this
